About the FDP

The Faculty Development Program (FDP) on Innovative Teaching Approaches in Management and Commerce Education is designed to equip educators with modern, student-centered teaching methods tailored to these fields. The program explores new techniques and strategies that enhance learning engagement, improve conceptual understanding, and connect theory with real-world applications. Through interactive sessions, case studies, and hands-on activities, participants gain valuable insights into creating impactful, relevant, and outcomes-driven learning experiences for today's dynamic educational landscape.

Objectives

- To get insights and tools for the management and commerce faculty members in creating a learning environment using creative teaching pedagogies.
- To demonstrate the cutting-edge technologies and platforms that are available in designing and creating learning and teaching content.
- To present possibilities to educators about various proven and effective teaching approaches that are available, beyond lecture-based teaching.

Key Information

- Duration: 7 days (11-11-2024 to 18-11-2024) in online mode
- Timings: 6.00 PM to 7.00 PM each day
- Registration fees: 300/- only per participant
- Seats allocated on first come first serve basis
- All participants will receive a Certificate of Participation after successful completion of the FDP
